OIC Held InsurTech Panorama 2019 to Open up Perspectives for the Future of Insurance Technology in 2020

OIC with Center of InsurTech, Thailand, held an academic seminar to open up new perspectives regarding the insurance technology. The event called InsurTech Panorama 2019 was aimed to reinforce knowledge and modern concepts for those in the insurance and technological fields, leading to the comprehension, innovations, and development of Thai insurance technologies. In this regard, experts and those experienced in insurance technologies from both local and international companies were invited, namely Plug and Play California, Sympo Singapore, Fairdee InsurTech, and Muang Thai Life Assurance. All speakers discussed positive changes in the insurance industry as well as applications of startup concepts to enable organizations to adapt and develop swiftly.

Secretary General of OIC added that the insurance industry was very active and receptive to technologies for business operations. The likely changes in the future included the 3 key points as follows:

1. The acceptance and the application of new technologies

To increase efficiency of customer services as well as creating the future ecosystem to establish stable and sustainable grounds. Most insurance companies have turned to cooperate with experts in technologies, allowing insurance companies to overcome limitations and gaps of knowledge, which would benefit the organizational culture changes.

2. The changes in consumer behavior

As observed, today's customers are inseparable from their smart phones; therefore, insurance companies have started to penetrate this group of customers. Big Data and AI are also employed to answer customers' needs more effectively.

3. The changes in technology infrastructure.

Forms of services have changed, with more emphasis on customer satisfaction than marketing. Customer satisfaction can be achieved through various means such as swift services or special offers; these activities would be effective through the ecosystem that can support and connect them.

"I believe that OIC would join hands with others in the insurance industry such as InsurTech, startups, and those related sectors to develop and lead the insurance industry to overcome challenges as well as effectively utilizing the various opportunities in the era of digital economy. Everybody was asked to take important part in moving the country forward. Rather than just catching up with the trends, we should be ahead of changes in order to sustainably foster value and growth of the insurance industry," said Secretary General of OIC in the end.
